JESSE CYRUS GORED TO AWFUL DEATH BY A MAD BULL

Prominent Boyd County Farmer Killed by an Enraged Animal.

Jesse Cyrus, prominent farmer and stock breeder of Dublin, Boyd county, was killed late Tuesday by an infuriated bull.

He had started with some of his children to milk about 6 p. m., noticing the bull in the barnyard he took a whip and started to drive him to another field when the animal turned and knocked him over an embankment, then jumped over on him and pawed him in the chest and head and he rushed to him and drove the bull away with rocks. His son by that time reached him and the two managed to get him out of the reach of the infuriated animal.

They immediately summoned Dr. Prichard of Buchanan and he reached him about 30 minutes before he died. His chest was crushed and he was bleeding profusely.

Jesse Cyrus was a splendid citizen and will be greatly missed in all progressive movements. He was 50 years of age, a son of Sam Cyrus. He is survived by a wife and 9 children. Also, by his father, one brother and one sister of Ashland. His brother was summoned by phone as soon as the accident happened and came at once, bringing Dr. Bryson to assist Dr. Prichard, but he died before they arrived. His daughter, Miss Lucy, is in school at Chautauque, N. Y., and the funeral arrangements will be made as soon as she arrives. Probably will be held Friday morning in charge of the Masonic and I. O. O. F. lodges.

Income Tax Paid By Kentucky People

Washington.—Kentucky contributed $7,595,334 to the Federal Government in personal income taxes for the calendar year 1919, or six-tenths per cent of the total revenue from that source, which amounted to $1,239,639,104.

The percentage of Kentucky's total population filing personal income tax returns for the calendar year 1919 was 2.46 or lower than that of all but Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, and Tennessee.

Personal income tax returns were filed by 59,322 Kentuckians which was 1.13 per cent of the total number of such returns filed. The aggregate income reported in these returns amounted to $215,977,422, or 1.09 per cent of the total aggregate income reported by the entire country.

Lower Than 36 Other States. Notwithstanding the fact that the average net income per return filed in Kentucky was $3,640.15, or larger than the same figure for the other States, the per capita net income in the Bluegrass State was only $59.47, or lower than that of all except eight other States. These figures are taken to indicate that the average net income per capita in Kentucky is lower than that of at least thirty-eight of the forty-eight States.

Business Booming at Williamson

Ninety-one prisoners spent the night in the county jail and annex on the third floor of the court house at Williamson, W. Va. Saturday night the register showed 37 guests at Bryant Messer's hostelry.

It is needless to add that when the jail was built there was no intention of providing quarters for more than four scores of prisoners, but the smiling jailer seems to be equal to every emergency and always finds room for one more.

The week-end rush was due to the activity of the officers in and around Kermitt, where liquor and alleged liquor dealers and possessors were seized in big quantities and goodly numbers.—News.

Convicts Have to Wait Turns to Get Into Jail

Bluefield, Aug. 6.—The Mercer county jail has become so crowded that there is not enough room for those sentenced to jail in the course of this term of court. However a plan has been accepted by Judge J. Frank Maynard of the Criminal court to meet the emergency. When defendants are sentenced they will be permitted to give bail and take their turns at serving the sentence as soon as other prisoners' terms are completed.

Witness Against Sid Hatfield Shot in Back

Williamson, W. Va., Aug. 7.—State police today were searching for Lawrence Cline, of Gilbert, W. Va., wanted in connection with an investigation into the shooting yesterday afternoon of Kenner Cline, state witness before the grand jury prior to the indictment of the former, along with Sid Hatfield and others, on charges of "shooting up" Mohawk, a mine camp near here.

Kenner Cline, according to reports filed with Major Tom Davis, of the state police, was shot in the back as he rode away on horseback from a store of Emmerson Cline, following a verbal tilt with Lawyer Cline. Witnesses have told Major Davis, he said, that the argument was the result of testimony given by Kenner before the Welch grand jury.

Charley Pouch, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pouch, of Omar, W. Va., is dead as the result of an accidental wound from a shotgun fired by his older brother, aged eight years, while the two were at play in their home at Omar early Tuesday morning. No other person was present when the shooting occurred, so the details are lacking.

C. E. LIVELY, CLAIMS SELF-DEFENSE IN HATFIELD-CHAMBERS SHOOTING

Welch, W. Va., Aug. 6.—Self-defense is the claim of C. E. Lively, Baldwin-Felts detective, held under bond in connection with the shooting and killing of Sid Hatfield and Ed Chambers, Mingo mountaineers, in a statement to newspaper men today.

"I regret having had to shoot either one of these men," Lively said, "but it is a case of self-defense pure and simple."

The gun fight on the steps of the court house lasted perhaps a quarter of a minute, the detective said.

Lively said he had been told many times that following his testimony given in the Matewan trial last February Hatfield had threatened to take his life. "I knew if Sid got what he considered a good chance it would be either his life or mine," Lively asserted.

Says Both Foemen Draw Guns. Lively had posed as a union coal miner at Matewan following the battle there in May, 1920, in which ten men were killed, and had testified against Hatfield, Chambers and other co-defendants in the trial at Williamson.

Speaking of the Welch affair, the detective said he was sitting on a balcony outside the court house when Hatfield, Chambers and their wives approached.

"I happened to look down the steps, and there stood Sid Hatfield, Ed Chambers and their wives on the first landing. They were looking at me and exchanged glances, nodding their heads. Sid said something to Ed I couldn't hear. Suddenly they stepped apart. I could see Sid's jaws set like a steel trap. Both men pulled their guns. As they did so I jumped to my feet and pulled mine. Sid fired at me and I immediately shot back."

Used Two Pistols. Lively continued: "I had two pistols and was using both. Sid staggered and fell, as did Chambers immediately afterward. Then Mrs. Chambers attacked me with her umbrella. I grabbed the umbrella, threw it away and then walked over to the office of A. C. Hufford, Justice of the Peace, and surrendered. The report that I shot into Chambers' body while he was lying on the steps dead is an absolute falsehood."

W. C. Mitchell, Chief of Police at Welch, stated that after the fight he took a pistol, still warm and containing empty shells, from beside Chambers and found a two-inch barreled gun in a trouser pocket of Hatfield.

OUR FEET ARE SQUARELY ON THE GROUND

When asked how long a man's legs should be, a wise man once said, "Long enough to reach the ground."

And we feel the same about the service of a bank. It should be long enough to reach right down to the practical problems of everyday life.

Ours does—try it.

Came Back to Face Murder Charge Because of Love For Family

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 9.—According to his own story, told here today, "love for his wife and small children," together with the opinion that he was not "strong enough to dodge the law," caused T. C. ("Tolly") Combs to return to Hazard to face the charge of shooting to death Joe ("Boney") Combs at Yearke, twelve miles from Hazard, July 17.

He was arrested at McAlister, Okla., last week. He was brought to Lexington this morning by R. T. Noland, detective for the Rock Island Railroad. Deputy Sheriffs C. C. Fuff and James Glickerson of Hazard, together with R. C. Vermillion, brother-in-law of the dead man, came here today, but it is probable they will not take the accused man to Hazard for several days, they stated.

T. C. Combs and Joe Combs were Republican candidates for Jailer in Perry-co., and the trouble that resulted in the latter's death arose over an election dispute, in which he was called a vile name, the accused said.

INEZ ITEMS

The primary election held on the 6th inst., passed very quietly, but was one of the hottest contested elections ever held in the county. J. F. Bailey was nominated for Circuit Judge; Fred Vanhoose, Representative; John W. Wheeler Commonwealth's Attorney; J. C. Fletcher, Sheriff; J. H. Preece, Co. Attorney; Estarrah Cassidy, County Court Clerk and Jesse Patrick, Jailer. This makes a very strong ticket, composed of good men and women. The women played a very active part, taking much interest due to the fact that Mrs. Estarrah Cassidy was a candidate.

Circuit court re-convened here Monday with Hon. J. F. Bailey presiding. He re-instructed the grand jury on certain phases of the primary election law. The entire week will be taken up with the criminal docket. There will be three murder cases called for trial.

On Tuesday Wm. Coleman and Wiley Copley, Deputy Sheriffs hailed into town three hundred and eighty-seven gallons of moonshine whiskey. This was located in the cellar of Bunyon Triplett, near Hilmerville, Ky. This find created quite a bit of excitement. About the noon hour Judge Bailey entered an order, directing the Deputy Sheriffs to knock the heads out of the kegs and pour out the contents, which was done in the presence of several hundred people. The grand jury, as we are advised, is making a very rigid investigation of the much talked of "moonshine" business in this county. The good people are aroused and seem to be determined that this nefarious business be stopped.

Among the prominent visitors present at court, are Judges A. J. Kirk and M. C. Kirk of Paintsville and John H. Waugh of Ashland.

IN REMEMBRANCE

On the 25th of July the death angel visited the home of Lindsey and Gertrude Moore of Cadmus and called from them their darling baby, one that was dear to their home. He was 4 years old and was laid to rest in the family graveyard to await the call to Little Woodrow out of the sleeping dust.

Weep not, little dead. He is only sleeping. Sweet little darling, he was the light of our home. All was done that loving hands could do. It seems hard to us to see our loved ones laid in the cold grave, but our Lord's will be done. Be ready to meet your dear son when the summons comes to us. We all have to go, prepared or unprepared. We are glad to know that little Woodrow is with Jesus in that heavenly land where parting will never come. Father and mother only look to that beautiful home in glory. Little Woodrow is there waiting for you to come. Yes, our blessed Lord asks you to come. We miss his company and can not hear his sweet voice. Weep not, little Woodrow has a home not made with hands eternal in heaven where there will be no more sickness.

Will say to the bereaved ones that are left to mourn the loss of their dear ones that are gone to live with Jesus, only look and live for the one that called little Woodrow, who is able to carry you safe across the cold river of Jordan into beautiful city there to live with God and his holy angels. Yes, little Woodrow is with them and we can find him there if we only look to Jesus.

CAN'T DO THE WORK

It's too much to try to work every day against a constant, dull backache, or sudden darting pain in the small of the back. Be rid of it. Try Doan's Kidney Pills. Your neighbors recommend them. Ask your neighbor.

Jack Blankenship, foreman Construction Co., Plumb St., Louisa, says: "I have had the best of results through the use of Doan's Kidney Pills and can't recommend them too highly. I have a lot of exposure while on duty as foreman of a construction company and hoisting engines, together with the jarring, is what had a tendency to bring on my kidney trouble. There were times I had to give up work and go home and stay there, as I was just down with my back. Sharp, shooting pains darted all through my back and kidneys and the kidney secretions passed irregularly, containing a sandy sediment. I was in bad shape generally until I went to the Louisa Drug Store Co., and got three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills. I began using this medicine and soon got over the trouble. Doan's fixed me up in good shape and I have never been bothered since."

Gov. Small, of Illinois, after agreeing to submit to arrest under the indictment charging him with embezzlement of State funds, changed his mind and declined to be arrested. The sheriff and a bunch of deputies surrounded the Statehouse and finally starved him out. That is a fine state of affairs. Chicago has shown herself to especially rotten for several years.

Railroad employees have voted to strike against any reduction in wages and the power is now in the hands of the union officials to call a strike.

George Harvey is sitting in the Supreme Council of the League of Nations at Paris where he will spill the beans and misrepresent the United States.

The Cincinnati Enquirer has published a table showing the working of the new income tax bill which Congress is about to enact. It increases taxes on the small corporations and those whose earnings are moderate, and makes a large cut in the big corporations that make enormous dividends.

Kentucky is now in fifth place in coal production, according to the figures of the Federal Bureau of Mines. This State now yields precedence only to Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio and Illinois. Coal mining in Kentucky is yet in its infancy and with the development continuous and rich deposits still untouched, the day is not far distant when the State will go higher in production. This means that the industry is destined to become the largest commercial activity in the State, with a corresponding increase in the wealth and importance of Kentucky.—Louisville Times.

The liquor people never made a harder fight than they are now making to discourage the public with the illicit liquor business, using it to brand prohibition as a failure. A striking example of one of their methods is a series of ten articles sent out from Washington, published in the Huntington Herald-Dispatch, Cincinnati Enquirer, and every paper in the country that can be induced to publish them. They purport to give facts from the prohibition enforcement bureau in Washington, which is partly true, no doubt. A man named Seabrook puts his name over the articles. By the way, what wettter name than sea-brook could be found? Look out for this and other such propaganda in the daily press.

Primary Election of Last Saturday Brings Surprises

"so-called bosses were smitten hip and thigh in Martin county, and what is called the dry element won a sweeping victory." The result is given in our inset letter.

FLOYD AND KNOTT COUNTIES.
W. W. Williams of Prestonsburg won the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge. The Republican nomination is in doubt. Judge Patrick claims it by 18 and Lum Wheeler by 66.
Claud Stephens seems to have won for Commonwealth's Attorney by 41 votes.
Wm. S. Wallen won the Democratic nomination for representative by a large majority.
John D. Griffith is the Republican nominee for Commonwealth's Attorney.

BOYD COUNTY.
Wm. H. Carp claims a majority of 42 in Boyd county for the Republican nomination for county judge.
The race between Dan Vose and Dr. L. F. Allen for representative also is very close.
Circuit Clerk, L. F. Arthur.
County Attorney, Joe M. Spears.
County Clerk, H. W. Fleher.
Sheriff, H. D. Clark.
Jailer, Lon Hood.
Tax Commissioners, W. T. Thornbury, Wm. Hornbuckle, John Mock (in doubt).
Dr. W. M. Saulsberry defeated Sam Debord for Mayor of Ashland on the Republican ticket.

Magoffin County.
Senator, J. D. Whitaker, 528 majority over E. C. Hyden; Representative, J. N. Nicker, 483 majority; Circuit Judge, D. W. Gardner, 721 majority; Commonwealth's Attorney, Floyd Arnett, 70 majority.
Republicans nominated L. C. Bailey for County Judge, M. F. Patrick for County Attorney, D. C. Patrick for Sheriff, S. B. Allen for Circuit Clerk, F. L. Prater for County Clerk and Warren Long for Jailer.

Johnson County.
Judge Bailey wins for the Republican nomination for Circuit Judge in the Johnson-Martin district, over H. S. Howes.
Winners of nominations in Johnson county Saturday were: County Judge Deecher Stapleton; County Clerk, Frank Chandler; Sheriff, Frank Daniels; County Attorney, Samuel Stapleton; Circuit Clerk, Langley Preston; Jailer, John Sparks.

Miscellaneous Results.
It seems that Dr. J. D. Whitaker, of Morgan county, has been defeated by E. C. Hyden of Breathitt for the Democratic nomination for State Senator. Dr. Whitaker made a fine record as Senator for the past four years.
Fess Whitaker, the spectacular candidate for the Republican nomination for County Judge of Letcher was defeated by Henry Day.

Sergeant Lewis Nunley Marries in Knoxville

The following account of the marriage of Sergeant Lewis Nunley, formerly of this county, will be of interest here. It is from the Knoxville, Tenn. Sentinel of July 25:

In a service marked by the beauty of simplicity on Saturday evening, Miss Ethel Mary LaPoint became the bride of Sergeant Lewis Nunley at the Asbury Methodist Episcopal church.
This wedding recalled the popular military weddings of the war period, as the groom wore the uniform of his office as staff sergeant of the Reserve Officers Training Camp at the University of Tennessee. He received the Distinguished Service Cross for valor in the Argonne Forest, and wore this decoration with his Victory medals, his Veterans of Foreign Wars medal, and the medal received for service on the Mexican border. He was in France for over a year, serving with the 38th Infantry.

The bride, who is a lovely blonde type, was most attractively gowned in white satin. Her veil was a flowing affair, hanging in train from a coronet of orange blossoms. Brides roses formed her arm bouquet.

Mrs. Nunley, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. LaPoint of Asbury, has also seen service overseas. For almost a year she was stationed on the Mexican border in the capacity of Red Cross nurse, and was later transferred to Meves, France, where she served for eight months in a large base hospital. For the past year she has been connected with the federal board of vocational training, with headquarters at the University of Tennessee. She is the "follow-up" for the 300 men in vocational training at the university.

Neither bride nor groom had attendants.
Rev. J. J. Ellington, student pastor at the First Methodist Episcopal church, performed the ceremony, using the impressive double ring service.

Preceding the ceremony, Mr. Robert Swatts rendered several appropriate vocal selections. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Katherine Walter. For the entrance of the bridal couple, Mr. Swatts played the Lohengrin wedding march. As a recessional he played the Mendelssohn wedding march. Mr. Swatts was in the uniform of a captain of the 117th Infantry with which he served in France. He also wore decorations received for distinguished bravery under fire.

The church altar was banked with white hydrangeas and greenery, trailing vines being used most effectively along lattice work trellises on each side of the altar. Immediately behind the altar were large branching candelabra.

Following the ceremony, Sergeant and Mrs. Nunley held a reception and housewarming at their new home, 2075 East Fifth avenue in Park City.

NOTICE.
There will be a picnic social at the Chestnut Grove school house Saturday night, August 20. Everybody cordially invited and urged to attend. Come early. We are planning on a fine time.

A Wonderfully Complete Showing of Colonial Drapery Fabrics

In Our Fifth Floor Displays

No other medium of decoration offers as great latitude for the exercise of individual taste as drapery fabrics in floral and novel designs and colorings and no other method of treatment makes possible as great contrast in the furnishings of the various rooms. The present displays embrace patterns, textures and colorings appropriately and artistically designed for every type of room.

Inexpensive Patterns Are In Excellent Variety.

One of the most interesting features of the present showing is the unusually large number of low priced fabrics. There are many patterns at 25c, 30c, and 35c per yard. Their designs, colorings and general quality compare very favorably with the higher priced materials of seasons past. There is, of course, the usual fine showing of the more exclusive fabrics, but all of the new ones, regardless of appearance or quality show a decided trend toward normal pricings.

NEW AND BEAUTIFUL UPHOLSTERY MATERIALS.

Prominent among the new drapery arrivals is a fine selection of patterns appropriate for use both as drapery and upholstery. These are unusually heavy and serviceable, being woven from a combination of jute and cotton. A variety of floral and conventional patterns to select from, and they're moderately priced at$1.25 per yd.

Negro Population Decreases in State of Ky.

Washington, D. C., August 9.—The population of the State of Kentucky, as recently announced by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, is 90.2 per cent white and 9.8 per cent negro. In 1910 the percentage negro was 11.4.

The negro population, which was 261,656 in 1910, decreased to 235,938 in 1920, a decrease of 10.9 per cent. The white population in the same period increased from 2,027,951 to 2,180,560 or 7.5 per cent.

The white population of the state consists almost entirely of native Americans born of native American parents, the total native white of native parentage being 2,039,134, while the foreign element is represented by 39,780 foreign born whites, 45,931 native whites who had foreign born parents, and 44,715 who had one parent foreign born, the other being native. The total population includes also 47 Indians, 62 Chinese, 9 Japanese, 2 Koreans, 1 Filipino, and 1 Hindu.

In most counties of the state the percentage of negroes had decreased and in 104 of the 120 counties there was also a decrease in the number of negroes.
Lawrence county has 0.9 percentage of negroes in 1920 against 0.8 in 1910. Elliott has 0.1 against none in 1910. Johnson 0.3. Floyd has increased from 0.5 to 1.6. Greenup has decreased from 1.4 to 1.0. Pike has increased from 1 per cent to 4.1. Boyd has decreased from 5.5 to 2.5. Martin is the only county that reports no negroes. Christian county has the greatest percentage of negroes, 36 per cent.

Prevent Typhoid Fever.

Louisville, Ky., August 6.—Basing his recommendations on a recently completed investigation of an outbreak of typhoid at Owensboro, State Sanitary Engineer F. C. Dugan has made to Dr. A. T. McCormack, State Health Officer, nine recommendations which, if put into effect immediately, and continued attention is paid to the necessity of having a good water and milk supply, will mitigate the severity of the present outbreak of typhoid in Kentucky. If these measures are not adopted, Mr. Dugan says, the disease will be certain to continue to occur sporadically.

His recommendations follow:
All municipalities should compel the liberal use of lime in privies and vaults especially during the fly season.

All persons who have not had typhoid fever nor been vaccinated within the last two years should receive the typhoid inoculation immediately.

Wherever there are houses on sewer lines but not connected thereto, ordinances should be passed requiring all houses to be connected where sewers are available.

All privies, vaults or cesspools existing on property which now is connected or which is connected in the future should be destroyed or filled.

In municipalities which are only partially sewered, sewers should be built in the remaining portions without delay.

All municipalities should make more frequent collections of garbage and trash.

All property owners in the State should be held responsible for the growth of weeds either on their property or on the grass plot in the sidewalk.

A general clean-up of all municipalities should be made immediately.

Municipalities should have city plans and should be divided into city zones. Well laid out cities are kept clean more easily and have lower disease rates.

Former Lawrence

Lindsay, Cal., August 2, 1921.
Editor Big Sandy News:—
Have read several letters in your paper from different parts of the country, describing their beauties, climate, etc. I know the south land is beautiful and none loves her any better than I do, but if you want to see a country that nature made for its beauty you should see California. Tongue or pen fails to describe the wonderful climate here. You should see some of our sunrises. It seems to come up from the very earth and our sets are just as glorious as our rise. Our mountains, lakes and mountain streams here are some of nature's scenes of beauty which you must see to admire. We have some of the grandest highways here and last but not least the people just can't be beaten for their hospitality. Just remind me when I get with a bunch of them of the ways of Webbville friendship when I was there. I don't think old Webbville has changed much from the reports I hear of her. May she always reserve a place on the map of old Kentucky and may the Big Sandy News go forward cheering people in the distant lands.
When you people want a real outing a trip of pleasure come to sunny California where we can gather roses the year round and pick big yellow oranges on Christmas day while at the same time go for a snow ball party to the mountains. Let's hear more from Webbville, Orr and Cherokee. Trusting this word find the waste basket. I remain,

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

All Day Service.
The annual meeting of the Louisa Christian Church was held Sunday, August 7th, at the church. This was an all-day meeting. The morning was devoted to Sunday School and after the Sunday School hour, Rev. J. A. Joyce delivered an excellent sermon bearing on the duties of church officers. As usual the communion table was spread and the loaf and cup was passed to all in remembrance of the death of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. At the close of the morning session dinner was served at the church, there being an abundance for all who remained.
The afternoon service was devoted to the election of church officers. Rev. J. A. Joyce made a splendid talk on the duties of the officers and the relation of the members to the officers. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term: J. M. Mounts, F. A. Millard and C. B. Wellman, Trustees; J. M. Mounts, J. B. Riffe and C. B. Wellman, Elders; W. B. Huff, F. A. GREAT WORK OF U. S. REMOUNT STATION

Accomplishing Much to Build Unexcelled Line of Cavalry Horses Invaluable to Army.

The World War was the great cal-dron in which birth was given to many organizations looking to the leadership of America in every path of economic activity; and no such activity bearing on the future of one of our most vital essentials compares with that of the American Remount Association, an organization composed of some of the country's leading men. It came into being as a result of the dire necessity of more and better blooded horses for the United States Army. Thus, with kindred organizations, it is promoting one of the most important undertakings looking toward our future security.

The object of the Remount Association is the improvement of general-purpose horse conditions in every State in the Union; and because of the importance of the work entailed, Col. F. S. Armstrong, of the United States Army, has been placed in charge, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., where his department is in close touch with every other governmental agency. The Remount Association, with the co-operation of others similarly engaged, has, during the eighteen months of its existence, succeeded in getting one hundred and sixty-four stallions—eighty-five of which were donated by patriotic organizations and individuals—for distribution throughout the country, to be utilized by farmers desirous of raising the standard of their horses.

In laying out the work, it was decided to profit by the experience of foreign governments and locate thoroughbred sires in every grazing community of the country. The whole was divided into zones, and a plan of breeding, to the interest of the farmers of America, inaugurated. Recent reports from the Association's headquarters in Washington show that there has been an average of fifty-five mares for each stallion, although the breeding season is not yet concluded. Also, at a meeting of the Association, it was shown that there was a demand for some seven hundred horses last Spring, and that, for the coming Spring, this demand will be doubled or even tripled.

Both the race courses and the thoroughbred nurseries constantly are being drawn upon for horses of proven courage in the acid test of racing. It remains for them to produce the only type that measures up to the standard destined to supply the United States cavalry remounts worthy of the men in the service.

It may be added that, owing to the broad plan of fostering the industry of horse breeding as practiced for generations by the British, French and Italian Governments, these countries were in the enviable position of ability to supply their armies with good mounts, whereas, America, which had never introduced such a system was obliged to draw upon the resources of the allied nations to horse her men. WESTERN SONGBIRD HAILED AS JUNO

Miss Louise Dose

Is the superrace, to come from western America? Twice has Henry Savage, the theatrical producer, found it necessary to have a beautiful big girl in a stellar role of a production and each time he has had to turn his eyes to the west to find them. First attempt was answered by California but the more recent call found a Missouri maiden the choice, Miss Louise Dose, of Kansas City, a beautiful song bird who is six feet tall. When this western girl visited eastern art centers, where she studied, she was hailed by artists and sculptors as a "Modern Juno." When We Deserve It.
By Bert Leaton Taylor.

Let us have peace and thy blessing,
Lord of the wind and the rain.
When we shall cease from oppressing
From all injustice refrain;
When we hate falsehood and spurn it;
When we are men among men.
Let us have peace when we earn it—
Never an hour till then.

Let us have rest in thy garden,
Lord of the rock and the green,
When there is nothing to pardon.
When we are whitened and clean,
Purge us of skulking and treason,
Help us to put them away.
We shall have rest in thy season;
Till then the heat of the fray.

Let us have peace in thy pleasure,
Lord of the cloud and the sun;
Grant to us aeons of leisure,
When the long battle is done.
Now we have only begun it;
Stand up!—we ask nothing more.
Peace—rest—but not till we've won
It—
Never an hour before.

The Disappearing Family Dinner.
American leisure is driving the good old dinner from American homes. The gap is ever widening between the group that believe that the home is the basis of America and make the fireside the keystone of life, and the other group that look on the home as a place to be avoided except at roosting time.

Twenty years ago when father had finished an honest day's work he went home. Mother and the children were at the door to meet him, and the circle was one that got the fundamentals of life. Each had some work to do in keeping the home up. The Nation was built by fathers, mothers, sons and daughters of such.

Then came the automobile, movies, jazz, auction bridge, and what not. They have affected and continue to affect the American home. Where it all will lead, who can foretell?

Father comes home now early in the afternoon. Mother is at the door, but not with the idea of home. She has her finery on and is waiting for father to motor out to the golf links for a game. The family fireside no longer calls. One can dine in a country roadhouse or at the club. The children will get along all right. They or the maid can shake a supper out of a tin can in less time than it takes to tell. The kids will then be off for the neighborhood movie house.

Motoring takes one to the cool spots and the fine outdoors. Golf is an excellent exercise. The movies have their uplift. Dancing is pleasant pastime. Play of any kind is good, so long as it is balanced with work and is not overdone. But regardless of that, home is still the keystone of the Nation.

Rural America still has its family dinners. But in the larger communities where the number who are burning the candle at both ends is ever growing, the fundamentals of life are being lost sight of in the chase for the pleasure at the end of the rainbow.—Minneapolis Journal.

Wouldn't life be richer and sweeter if more of the little courtesies were shown when there are no eyes to behold them save those that are sure to brighten at the unusual demonstration. Is there anyone in the world as sweet and true and devoted as the home folks, yet are there any in the whole wide world treated with the same courtesy these dear ones receive? Bring the company manner into the intimacies of home and life and see how much brighter and sweeter will seem the world at large for the knowledge that you are giving your best to those who deserve it most.

Work is no dishonor, but laziness is a discredit to anyone. It is good and proper to have good wages but half pay is much better than nothing, and even working for nothing is far better than laziness or vice. The devil always finds employment for the idle. Idleness is the begetter of crime. It is degrading and demoralizing in its tendencies and criminal in its results. The idle are always tempted and their very dependence makes them ready and willing victims for temptations. There is no true manhood without independence.

He who strains himself from luxuries may help others in necessities, and he who helps others may look to Providence to help him in his hour of pressing need.

Fride goes before destruction, but honor and nobleness, and independence of soul are approved by our Maker and are profitable to mankind.

BASE BALL GAME.

Flat Gap against Keaton last Sunday played near the mouth of Keaton. R. C. Lyon and Norman Holbrook were the pitchers for Keaton. Dave Flannery pitched for Flat Gap. They left the ground with an understanding to the game was to be counted 9 to 9 in Keaton's favor. The Keaton ball team is gaining ground in the last games played. RED SOCKS.

GREAT WORK OF U. S. REMOUNT STATION

Accomplishing Much to Build Unexcelled Line of Cavalry Horses Invaluable to Army.

The World War was the great caldron in which birth was given to many organizations looking to the leadership of America in every path of economic activity; and no such activity bearing on the future of one of our most vital essentials compares with that of the American Remount Association, an organization composed of some of the country's leading men. It came into being as a result of the dire necessity of more and better blooded horses for the United States Army. Thus, with kindred organizations, it is promoting one of the most important undertakings looking toward our future security.

The object of the Remount Association is the improvement of general purpose horse conditions in every State in the Union; and because of the importance of the work entailed, Col. F. S. Armstrong, of the United States Army, has been placed in charge, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., where his department is in close touch with every other governmental agency. The Remount Association, with the co-operation of others similarly engaged, has, during the eighteen months of its existence, succeeded in getting one hundred and sixty-four stallions—eighty-five of which were donated by patriotic organizations and individuals—for distribution throughout the country, to be utilized by farmers desirous of raising the standard of their horses.

In laying out the work, it was decided to profit by the experience of foreign governments and locate thoroughbred sires in every grazing community of the country. The whole was divided into zones, and a plan of breeding, to the interest of the farmers of America, inaugurated. Recent reports from the Association's headquarters in Washington show that there has been an average of fifty-five mares for each stallion, although the breeding season is not yet concluded. Also, at a meeting of the Association, it was shown that there was a demand for some seven hundred horses last Spring, and that for the coming Spring, this demand will be doubled or even trebled.

Both the race courses and the thoroughbred nurseries constantly are being drawn upon for horses of proven courage in the acid test of racing. It remains for the Association to produce the type that measures up to the standard destined to supply the United States cavalry remounts worthy of the men in the service.

It may be added that, owing to the broad plan of fostering the industry of horse breeding as practiced for generations by the British, French and Italian Governments, these countries were in the enviable position of ability to supply their armies with good mounts, whereas, America, which had never introduced such a system was obliged to draw upon the resources of the allied nations to horse her men. WESTERN SONGBIRD HAILED AS JUNO

Miss Louise Dove

Is the superlative to come from western America? Twice has Henry Savage, the theatrical producer, found it necessary to have a beautiful big girl in a stellar role of a production and each time he has had to turn his eyes to the west to find them. First attempt was answered by California but the more recent call found a Missouri maiden the choice, Miss Louise Dove, of Kansas City, a beautiful song bird who is six feet tall. When this western girl visited eastern art centers, where she studied, she was hailed by artists and sculptors as a "Modern Juno." It was there that Savage was attracted to her talent and persuaded her to give up Grand Opera ambitions for a season or two in Lady Lilly.

When We Deserve It.

By Bert Leston Taylor.

Let us have peace and thy blessing.

Lord of the wind and the rain.

When we shall cease from oppressing

From all injustice refrain;

When we hate falsehood and spurn it;

When we are men among men.

Let us have peace when we earn it—

Never an hour till then.

Let us have rest in thy garden;

Lord of the rock and the green,

When there is nothing to pardon,

When we are whitened and clean,

Purge us of skulking and treason,

Help us to put them away.

We shall have rest in thy season;

Till then the heat of the fray.

Let us have peace in thy pleasure,

Lord of the cloud and the sun;

Grant to us aeons of leisure,

When the long battle is done,

Now we have only begun it;

Lead us!—we ask nothing more.

Peace—rest—but not till we've won it—

Never an hour before.

The Disappearing Family Dinner.

American leisure is driving the good old dinner from American homes.

The gap is ever widening between the group that believe that the home is the basis of America and make the fireside the keystone of life, and the other group that look on the home as a place to be avoided except at roosting time.

Twenty years ago when father had finished an honest day's work he went home. Mother and the children were at the door to meet him, and the circle was one that got the fundamentals of life. Each had some work to do in keeping the home up. The Nation was built by fathers, mothers, sons and daughters of such.

Then came the automobile, movies, jazz, auction bridge, and what not. They have affected and continue to affect the American home. Where it all will lead, who can foretell?

Father comes home now early in the afternoon. Mother is at the door, but not with the idea of home. She has her finery on and is waiting for father to motor out to the golf links for a game. The family fireside no longer calls. One can dine in a country roadhouse or at the club. The children will get along all right. They or the maid can shake a supper out of a tin can in less time than it takes to tell. The kids will then be off for the neighborhood movie house.

Motoring takes one to the cool spots and the fine outdoors. Golf is an excellent exercise. The movies have their uplift. Dancing is pleasant pastime. Play of any kind is good, so long as it is balanced with work and is not overdone. But regardless of that, home is still the keystone of the Nation.

Rural America still has its family dinners. But in the larger communities where the number who are burning the candle at both ends is ever growing, the fundamentals of life are being lost sight of in the chase for the pleasure at the end of the rainbow.—Minneapolis Journal.

Wouldn't life be richer and sweeter if more of the little courtesies were shown when there are no eyes to behold them save those that are sure to brighten at the unusual demonstration. Is there anyone in the world as sweet and true and devoted as the home folks, yet are there any in the whole wide world treated with the scant courtesy these dear ones receive? Bring the company manner into the intimacies of home and life and see how much brighter and sweeter will seem the world at large for the knowledge that you are giving your best to those who deserve it most.

Work is no dishonor, but laziness is a discredit to anyone. It is good and proper to have good wages but half pay is much better than nothing, and even working for nothing is far better than laziness or vice. The devil always finds employment for the idle. Idleness is the begueter of crime. It is degrading and demoralizing in its tendencies and criminal in its results. The idle are always tempted and their very dependence makes them ready and willing victims for temptations. There is no true manhood without independence.

He who strains himself from luxuries may help others in necessities, and he who helps others may look to Providence to help him in his hour of pressing need.

Pride goes before destruction, but honor and nobleness, and independence of soul are approved by our Maker and are profitable to mankind.

After he had knocked down Mrs. Angeline Younce, 60 years old, a widow, near Coal Run, Ed Williams, escaped negro prisoner, was captured by a posse of fifty men after a chase of several miles Thursday. The negro, it is charged, attempted to rob Mrs. Younce and after she had denied having money he started to beat her with a stone. Frightened by neighbors, the negro pushed his victim over a high bank and fled.

Negro Shot Another's Arm Off, Is Charged.

After a chase from the First National Bank along Division street to the C. & O. railroad, Robert McGee, negro, surrendered to Chief of Police James Matney Friday morning. The First National Bank here had been notified by the Ford Elkhorn Mining Company, Robinson creek, to have McGee arrested if he called to lift a deposit which he had made a few days ago.

When McGee called for his money at the bank bank officials detained him by dilatory tactics until the Chief of Police was found. Black Accused of Beating Woman Taken.

After he had knocked down Mrs. Angeline Younce, 60 years old, a widow, near Coal Run, Ed Williams, escaped negro prisoner, was captured by a posse of fifty men after a chase of several miles Thursday. The negro, it is charged, attempted to rob Mrs. Younce and after she had denied having money he started to beat her with a stone. Frightened by neighbors, the negro pushed his victim over a high bank and fled.

Negro Shot Another's

Arm Off, Is Charged.

After a chase from the First National Bank along Division street to the C. & O. railroad, Robert McGee, negro, surrendered to Chief of Police James Matney Friday morning. The First National Bank here had been notified by the Ford Elkhorn Mining Company, Robinson creek, to have McGee arrested if he called to lift a deposit which he had made a few days ago.

When McGee called for his money at the bank bank officials detained him by dilatory tactics until the Chief of Police was found. Then the negro dashed down the street and reached the railroad before he was arrested. It was later learned that McGee had shot another negro's arm off with a shotgun at Robinson creek. McGee, it is said, alleges that his victim had stolen $150 from him.

COLVIN FAVORS THE AMENDMENTS

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Gives Reasons for Changes Asked in School Laws

Kentucky is perditionally close to the end of the line of states in the education of her children. She is only three places from the end of that long line. This bare statement of a very disagreeable fact should force every red-blooded man and woman in the state to resolve that a change must be made in the near future for the childhood of the state.

The following statement, which was given by reporter when he visited Frankfort lately, is what the Hon. George Colvin, the present State Superintendent of Public Instruction, thinks of the school situation in Kentucky at this writing. Every man and the people. In education Kentucky ranks forty-fifth among the states. Until recently the attendance in our public schools was 37 per cent. Our teachers are not only the most poorly paid but they are the most poorly prepared of any state in the Union with the possible exception of two. It is not because Kentucky children cannot be taught; it is not because Kentucky teachers lack capacity to learn or devotion to teach; it is simply because children and teachers alike have not been given a chance. No men who loves Kentucky, who loves Kentucky's childhood can be satisfied with Kentucky's condition educationally. Nothing has contributed to this condition more largely than lack of competent, conscientious, continued, educational leadership.

Parties Back Movement.

"Both political parties in Kentucky have proposed through a plank in their platform to take the office of State Superintendent out of politics and to place it upon a professional basis and to make it possible for a Superintendent to succeed himself. The administration of our schools ought not to be a political issue. The rights of our children do not admit of any division of opinion. Democrats and Republicans alike believe that the Kentucky child should be given a school system worthy of that child. The two political parties do not differ in their attitude toward schools any more than they differ in their attitude toward the Ten Commandments. The adoption of the proposed Constitutional Amendment will unite the two parties in practice even as they are now united in principle in their support of schools. The adoption of the amendment will give the Legislature the power to fix the term of the Superintendent; will give the Legislature the power to prescribe the manner of his election; will give the Legislature the power to place the office upon a professional rather than on a political basis. The State Superintendent is the only school administrator in Kentucky that is now politically elected. The President of the University is appointed by a competent board because of professional fitness alone. The Presidents of the two Normal Schools are appointed in the same way. The superintendents of our city schools are appointed by boards because of demonstrated fitness not because of political affiliation. County superintendents are appointed again in the same way.

Is Not a Political Issue.

"There is no opposition to the amendment anywhere. It has been unanimously endorsed by the Kentucky Educational Association. The Kentucky Educational Survey Commission insists that we cannot hope for any great improvement in our schools until this amendment has been adopted. The Federated Women's Clubs of Kentucky have endorsed it. Rotary Clubs and Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce throughout the state have endorsed it. Both political parties have endorsed it. The Legislature that proposed it did so by the votes of the members of both parties. It is not a political issue. It is not proposed in the interest of this party or that party; it is proposed solely in the interest of the Kentucky child. For the sake of the Kentucky child, the Kentucky voters should make the vote in favor of the amendment so overwhelming that he man could any longer be in doubt about Kentucky's determination to have a school system equal to any in the nation."

Geo. Colvin.

woman in Kentucky should read it most carefully and then act definitely when voting on the two amendments to the Constitution at the November election:

"Education in Kentucky in the past has suffered more from lack of a definite policy and a continued program than from any other single cause. Every four years administration of our schools is changed. Under the law no State Superintendent can succeed himself. Our school laws are a sort of legislative crazy quilt. Each succeeding Superintendent adds a patch or two that may or may not harmonize with the whole. No business can succeed if its policies are changed every four years. The administration of schools is the State's biggest business. In no department of government is a permanent program more necessary than in the administration of schools. Kentucky will not have better schools until she has better administration of her schools. Kentucky will not have better administration of her schools so long as she has politically elected Superintendents serving only four years.

System a Growth.

"A school system is a growth and not an enactment. It cannot be created overnight. It must conform to the genius of the people of the state. It must meet the needs of the people of the state. Kentucky cannot borrow from any state a school system that will entirely meet her needs. She must develop her own system. It will need Kentucky's best leadership to develop this system. This leadership cannot be had under the present method of selecting State Superintendents.

"Those who tell us that Kentucky has not suffered from politically elected Superintendents are either misinformed or are deliberately misleading."

Resolutions of Respect

The following resolutions of respect were approved and adopted by the Board of Directors of the Louisville and Fort Gay Bridge company by reason of the death of "Dock" Frazier of Fort Gay, W. Va., who had for many years been a director of the company.

Resolved, That in the untimely death of Dock Frazier, the stockholders of this company have suffered a distinct loss because he always had the best interests of the company in mind and purpose. He ungrudgingly gave his thought and time to every project that was for the best interest of the company. It was rare indeed that he missed a meeting of the Board of Directors and in matters affecting the good of the bridge, he could always be counted on the right side.

He became a stock holder January 6, 1906, and this was before the bridge was opened for traffic, and therefore before any one knew whether or not it would be a paying investment. His chief motive was to encourage the erection of the bridge because it would help the community, rather than hope for gain. He knew to cross the river at that time meant to walk down a muddy river bank and wait patiently for the ferryman to answer his call and bring over a boat that was usually wet and muddy; get in and be slowly rowed across the river and land at the foot of another muddy bank. For this he had to pay five cents. He looked far into the future and saw that a bridge spanning both rivers would increase and make easy the traffic between Kentucky and West Virginia and when the time came he voted to reduce the fare across to three cents. He was a quiet, good man, a good neighbor, a faithful friend. In his death the community at large, as well as his immediate family, has suffered a great loss.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of the company, and a copy thereof be sent to his family, and that the local papers be requested to publish same.

IN MEMORY

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear cousin, Mrs. Julia Moore, whose soul took its flight to the God who gave it, July 23, 1921.

Julia McKinster Moore was born February 23, 1905. She died at the age of 16 years 5 months and 6 days.

Julia was converted at the age of 14 years and joined the Freewill Baptist church and it can truly be said of Julia she lived up to her duty as a Christian.

On March 17, she became the wife of Hubert Moore of Ledoclo. In the death of Julia the husband has lost a faithful wife, father and mother a kind daughter, sisters and brother a loving sister. But heaven has gained another angel. Julia's sickness was short, but her suffering great, only being confined to her room one week with that awful typhoid fever.

Her father being anxious to know how she felt about dying asked her if she thought she was alright. Her reply was, I know it. If I wasn't I would be praying. Then she said God's will must be done. Shortly after this she became too ill to talk on any subject, but was often seen to look up as though she was praising God.

Oh, what a thought to us. We know where to find Julia—in a land of Paradise where no scorching fever is ever found to take our loved ones from us, but all is peace and love.

What a comfort this should be to loved ones. Julia is not dead, only sleeping the sweet sleep which all sleep that die in Christ. Live faithful as Julia did. Some day soon or later you too must quit the walks of life as she did and why not say as she said, "God's will be done not ours."

Funeral service was conducted by Rev. A. H. Miller and G. A. Thompson after which her form was laid in the silent city of the dead there to sleep the sweet sleep till the dead in Christ shall rise.

The golden gates were open, a gentle voice said come, and with farewells unspoken she calmly entered home.

Our Father doeth all things well, although our hearts with sorrow swell. He bids us trust and weep no more, for we shall see those gone before.

Miss Mecca Pennington

Oh, how sad are the hours and how long the days since our dear sister left us. But we weep not as those who have no hope, for we have a sweet assurance that Mecca is resting in the arms of Jesus. We weep only because we miss her sweet presence so much. We miss the kind words and smiles she always had for every one.

Mecca had been in bad health for over two years and had been confined to her bed five weeks. She departed this life July 25, 1921, age 22 years, 15 months and 13 days. She had always been a patient sufferer and often before death claimed her she would say she wished that she could leave this world and shortly before she left she asked those around her to pray for God to take her then and told mother to pray for little brother to come to go with her.

Our home is lonely now for the sunshine of our home is gone, but we humbly submit to God's will, for we know if we live as she told us to we shall meet again, not here on earth in pain and sorrow, but up yonder where there is no death, where the hands of our darlings will not be cold and clammy in death, but all is happiness.

Mecca was always so glad when her friends came to see her and the last words she was heard to say were that the people had been so good to come and see her.

The consolation to us is the fact that we know our sister is at peace. Our dear sister whom we've loved so long and with whom we've spent so many happy hours is in the land where the weary are at rest. Her poor, warm frame will never more be rocked in pain, suffering is no more.

It will only be a little while till we'll cross over the dark river and join our sister among the hosts of loved ones gone before.

Call not back the dear departed, Ancestral safe where storms are o'er, On the border land we left her, Soon to meet and part no more.

When we leave this world of changes When we leave this world of care; We shall find our missing loved one, In our Father's mansion fair.

She was laid to rest in the family burying ground on the point beside little brother who left us years ago. Services were conducted by Bro. Berry.
